University Horticultural Officers Conference
5th - 8th September 2023
Swansea University

Dear Colleague,

We are pleased to confirm that the 2023 Horticultural Officers Conference will take place at Swansea University, offering an exciting programme of places to explore and things to do in the vibrant city.

Please find enclosed details of the programme for the Horticultural Conference. The Conference is open to anyone in a management role in amenity or commercial horticulture and / or sports grounds for an educational establishment. We would be delighted to give you a warm welcome to Swansea.

The background of the top section of the page is a faded aerial photograph of Swansea Bay and Singleton Park. The image shows the coastline, green parkland, and the city of Swansea in the distance.

Tuesday 5th - Friday 8th September 2023

Early booking is advised as places will be limited

Where?

We will be based at Swansea University's Singleton Campus, set in mature parkland and botanical gardens, overlooking the beautiful Swansea Bay beach.

Why attend?

Both the grounds at the Singleton Park Campus and the Bay Campus have been awarded Green Flag status, making us the only Welsh dual campus University to currently have this prestigious award for both sites. Attendees will have the chance to discover the University's award-winning grounds, including the Crymlyn Burrows Site of Special Scientific Interest at the Bay Campus and our listed Botanical Garden at Singleton Park.

Swansea is a lively, diverse city. During the Conference you will have the opportunity to take in the scenery of the National Botanical Garden of Wales, explore attractions including the Swansea.com Stadium and training grounds, and Penderyn Distillery - the home of Welsh Whisky.
